

James 1:2-4 (NASB)

D
Consider it all joy, my brethren, when you encounter various trials, A knowing that the testing of your faith produces endurance. D
And let endurance have its perfect result, G
that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing. D A D

D
I'd like to live on a mountaintop - and never venture below A

But the gardens are few on the mountiantop - D and the fruit doesn't hardly grow G

So I thank God for the valleys - where the fruit grows evermore and I thank God for trials - James 1, verses 2 through 4 D A D

D
Consider it all joy, my brethren, when you encounter various trials, A
knowing that the testing of your faith produces endurance. D
And let endurance have its perfect result, G
that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing. D A D G D A D