James 2:19 (KJV)

```
D                          C
Thou believest that there is one God;
 G          D
thou doest well:
                  C             D
the devils also believe, and tremble.

 D                 C                   D
Only one God you believe in this is true
             C                   D
Read, verse 19 of James Chapter 2
      G                           F          D
The demons would agree as they tremble and shake
                               C               D
But to simply acknowledge – is a “grave” mistake.

D                          C
Thou believest that there is one God;
 G          D
thou doest well:
                  C             D
the devils also believe, and tremble.
